Dallas Bristow, Lexi Wirsta show Elk Point 4-H Beef Club's 2019 champions

ELK POINT 4-H GRAND CHAMPION - Dallas Bristow was presented with the Three Mile Angus Grand Champion Steer award by judges Samantha and Conway Roscoe after he edged out Kailey Wirsta in the Elk Point 4-H Beef Club Achievement Day Parade of Champions, which also included steers shown by Luke Germain and Lexi Wirsta in the impressive lineup.

Elk Point 4-H Beef Club member Lexi Wirsta swept the club's May 18 Achievement Day Female Show, winning the Crest View Angus Grand Championship with her Angus two-year-old cow 'Beauty' and calf 'Gossip Girl' and the Family Ties Angus Reserve Championship with her Charolais three-year-old 'Venezuela' and calf 'Cleopatra'.

Both pairs topped their classes in preliminary judging, with Dallas Bristow placing second in both, with 'Twilight' and 'Haze' in the two-year-old competition and 'Star' and 'Thunder' in the three-year-old class. 'Thunder' also placed first in the bull calf class, ahead of Alysa Jean's 'JR', while 'Gossip Girl' led the heifer calf class, with Jayden Jean's 'May' placing second. Cleaver member Jayden Jean had the opportunity to show off his skills prior to the calf class.

Nicole Bristow showed the top yearling heifer, 'Blizzard', with Lexi second with 'Mindy', those heifers advancing to the final round along with Cloey Germain's 'Aria' and Kailey Wirsta's 'Dream'.

Lexi also topped the Herd class, with Dallas second. In the Steer Show, however, it was Dallas who accepted his first-ever Grand Champion award from Three Mile Angus with a handsome Simmental steer.

Crash simulated but cause all too real, students told

VICKI BROOKER
 Review Staff

Sirens, flashing lights and the sound of the Jaws of Life cutting apart crushed vehicles were part of the scene north of the A. G. Ross Arena during Friday's noon hour, where a body covered by a blanket lay on the ground just a few feet from a vehicle being dismantled to extricate another accident victim.

The crash, which was said to have resulted from distracted driving, drew quite a crowd of high school students from both F. G. Miller and Heinsburg Community School, but after the extricated 'victim' had been evaluated, carefully loaded on first a back board and then a stretcher and whisked off by EMTs, and the 'deceased' had gotten up and dusted herself off, the whole crowd, from students to emergency personnel, reassembled in the FGM gym to hear an even more powerful message, from a victim of another crash who barely lived to tell about it.

RCMP Sgt. David Henry and one of the EMTs who had been at the scene explained that while this crash wasn't the real thing, fatal collisions are all too common and too many lives are lost as a result.

Her life wasn't lost, but it was put on hold and will never be the same. Guest speaker Renaye Ward, a recent high school graduate was working as an assistant manager at a fast food restaurant and upgrading her studies ready to pursue a career as a lawyer, when the vehicle she was in on March 13, 2013 was hit from behind by a distracted driver, leaving her unconscious, with a broken pelvis and broken jaw and bleeding on the brain.

The 25 minutes it took firefighters to cut her out of the car was a very short time compared to the 34 days she was in a coma, the two months she spent in the Royal Alexandra Hospital and many more months of rehabilitation at the Glenrose and another rehabilitation hospital, Wade said. "I remember none of this, or the two and a half years before that. I lost a considerable amount of valuable memory." Similar to the 'shaken baby' syndrome, her brain will never be quite the same, she said.

Wade had to relearn to do everything. A former singer, she could not speak, and still cannot sing because "I now have no range in my voice." Her jaw was broken in two places and is held together with titanium plates, requiring numerous surgeries, and "I couldn't eat anything but soft food for over a year. It was amazing to finally have pizza." She also had vision issues, but say she now only needs glasses for reading. She had to learn to sit and stand, to regain her balance and to walk, and has utilized electronic stimulation to retrain her brain, along with eight rounds of Botox treatments. "And I still have issues to fix and work on." (Continued on Page 10)

EXTRICATION IN ACTION - Elk Point Firefighters open the roof of a vehicle to extricate the driver after a crash. The passenger in the other car wasn't that lucky, and lies under a blanket, waiting for the coroner to arrive.

Future of Heinsburg Post Office unclear

CLARE GAUVREAU
Review Staff

After 33 years on the job, Judy Jenner is retiring from her duties as the postmaster of the Heinsburg Post Office, which means the future of mail service in this tiny hamlet hangs in the balance.

Jenner confirmed Friday that May 31 is her retirement date and that she and her husband own the building in which the post office is located.

Local area manager Trevor Marks said Monday, Canada Post is "attempting to hire a postmaster and we'll see where it goes from there."

In an email to the Review just prior to press deadline Monday, Canada Post stated it was hoping to have the vacancy filled as soon as possible. After May 31, "until a replacement postmaster has been hired, residents who were served at the Heinsburg Post Office will pick up their mail at temporary community mailboxes. The location of these mailboxes is still to be determined, and once confirmed, customers will be notified of all changes and necessary information by letter," spokesperson Hayley Magermans stated.

In a letter to the County of St. Paul Reeve Steve Upham dated April 3, Marks indicated "the change in circumstances has created an opportunity for you to provide input as to how Canada Post can best serve residents in the community of Heinsburg in the future," and encouraged the county to meet.

During the May 14 county council meeting, Div. 1 Coun. Darrell Younghans said a meeting with Canada Post earlier in the month hadn't yielded a clear indication of how the corporation planned to ensure continued local service in Heinsburg other than that it was advertising the position. He described the process as "a real gong show," given that Jenner had let them know in February she was retiring.

"There was all kinds of options there they just didn't take the time to look at," he said. "I have no idea where it's going."

In speaking to the Review Friday, Younghans said Heinsburg "is down to the post office and the school," and expressed concern as to what it would mean for convenience for local residents should the post office close.

According to the Canada Post job posting, the employment opportunity requires applicants live in the community or within a 50 km radius of the post office. Applicants must also be able to provide "suitable premises in a central location with the community" which includes being "fully accessible to persons with disabilities." A leasing allowance of $2,279 annually is provided.

A local post office has long been an important service to the area. According to information available on the Elk Point Historical Society website: "As Alberta and Saskatchewan came into being in 1905 this region began to be settled with few services available, partly due to the barrier of the North Saskatchewan River. In 1913 John Heins set up a post office and store in his home near the current Whitney Lake Provincial Park. The next year a ferry started 5 miles south. With the coming of the CNR in 1928, two elevators were built near the river and, like many communities, the town of Heinsburg moved to the Railroad. The train ran 6 nights a week to this end of line stop. A planned extension to Saskatchewan never happened. A hotel and church were built in Heinsburg. Phone service arrived in 1929. Stores were run by Ben Kates and Rudolph Gregor, among others, for many years. A drug store was run for a while by W. B. Cameron, only white male survivor of the Frog Lake hostilities. Many other businesses supported the community."

New family physician now practising in Elk Point

ALBERTA HEALTH SERVICES
Review Contributor

Local residents have increased access to primary care with the arrival of a new family physician now practising in the community.

Dr. Ashaolu Adenike Oluwatoyin Mulikat, also known as Dr. Ashaolu [Ash-a-loo], is a family medicine physician working out of the Elk Point Healthcare Centre and the Ayobami Oyebo Medical Clinic. She becomes the third family physician practising in town.

"It's a pleasure to welcome Dr. Ashaolu to the community," says Dr. Albert Harmse, Associate Zone Medical Director for Alberta Health Services. "She's a great addition to our local care team and an excellent example of the steady progress being made to recruit physicians to communities across northern Alberta."

Dr. Ashaolu comes to Elk Point from Winnipeg. She arrived in Canada in September 2017 after completing her medical training and residency in Nigeria.

With plans to specialize in geriatric medicine, Dr. Ashaolu enjoys cooking and hiking as well spending time with husband Daniel Ashaolu and their three children: Joshua, Jemimah and Joy.

"We are looking forward to meeting the good people of Elk Point," Dr. Ashaolu says.

AHS continues to recruit for family physicians across northern Alberta to meet community needs. AHS has physician resource planners who are dedicated to identifying and pursuing international and domestic physician recruitment opportunities. They work closely with various community partners and organizations, such as local Health Advisory Councils, the Rural Health Professions Action Plan, and independent physician recruitment and retention committees.

Alberta Health Services is the provincial health authority responsible for planning and delivering health supports and services for more than four million adults and children living in Alberta. Its mission is to provide a patient-focused, quality health system that is accessible and sustainable for all Albertans.

In the winter of 2017, the County of St. Paul No. 19, in partnership with the towns of St. Paul and Elk Point and the Summer Village of Horseshoe Bay began preparing and updating Intermunicipal Development Plans (IDP) between the County and each of the partnering municipalities. In April 2018, landowner interviews and community open houses were held to gather feedback from landowners, residents and stakeholders on the vision, issues and ideas for the IDP study area. The feedback shared and information gathered from a technical review, helped the project team to develop a land use concept and related policies for the study area.

The draft background report and land use concept was shared on the project website on August 7, 2018. The draft IDP is available for review the project website: <http://multi-urbanidps.ca/>

EDITORIAL

Pay attention and save lives

"The beautiful thing about learning is that nobody can take that away from you," according to the sign outside F. G. Miller High School. But after hearing what guest speaker Renaye Wade had to say on Friday, the staff and students of that school know that this isn't always true.

Wade lost two and a half years of learning, most of her high school academics, after a distracted driver slammed into the vehicle in which she was a passenger. That driver didn't take her life, and didn't take her ambition to be a lawyer, but did make it a whole lot harder to achieve her goal.

Distraction and inattention for only a few seconds is all it takes to cause a fatal crash, or like Wade's, one that can change lives forever. Is it worth it, to answer that phone call or that text, when you could leave someone dead or permanently scarred in mind and body? What about if the person who is left dead or permanently scarred is YOU?

That crash was not Wade's fault, nor the fault of her friend who was driving the car. It was the fault of someone who felt something was more important than keeping their eyes on where they were going and what was in front of them.

We don't have freeway traffic, but we do have deer that dart out of ditches, people who ignore sideroad stop signs and even unexpected road hazards such as washouts and broken pavement to look out for.

Put down that phone and pay attention....Please!

Volunteers needed!

CRISTIN TCHIR
Recreation Coordinator

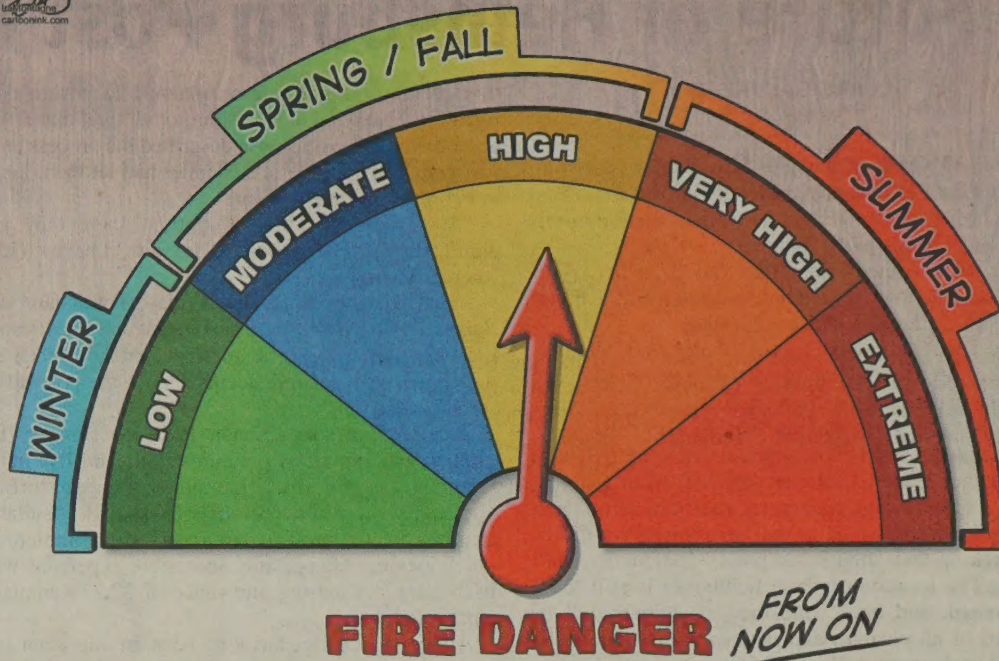

Do you have an eye for design? Do you appreciate when hard work is noticeably visible, have you ever wanted to judge something? If you answered yes to any of these questions, well then, I have a job for you!

The Canada Day Committee is in need of a group of six people to judge this year's parade floats. The job itself takes anywhere from 30 minutes to an hour, it's not a lot of time or effort to volunteer for this event... but it is a big responsibility to choose the best float!! If you are willing, and able, please contact Diane Peifer at dpeifer1@hotmail.com. She will have all the answers to any of your questions!

As for the rest of Canada Day planning, all is going well.... insert nervous laughter.... I'm kidding, this year's event is definitely going to be fun and different so be sure to stick around after the parade, you will not be disappointed!

Next up is Seniors Week! As usual there will be a pancake breakfast served at the Seniors Recreation Center on June 2, 2019 from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m.. Come down and enjoy a hot meal cooked and served up by Mayor Lorne Young and Council.

OK hikers, get ready for our first hike. If you haven't already done so, like and share our Facebook page, Elk Point Hiking Club, there you will find all the updates, times and future hikes information. As of now, since the club is very new and in its preliminary stages, we have one hike decided, it will be at Ross Lake on June 8, time TBA, but like I said, stay tuned to our Facebook page. Summer is short, so let's get outside and enjoy it while we can! See you out there!

Elk Point Palliative Care Society reflects, remembers and shows appreciation

VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

Twenty-eight area residents who have passed away in the past year were remembered with the lighting of candles at the Elk Point Palliative Care Society's annual Candlelight Ceremony last Tuesday.

Theresa McNamara welcomed the families who have lost loved ones to "a special time to remember and reflect," and said the Palliative Care group "endeavors to provide support for families," before introducing the volunteers who make up the group and Health Care Auxiliary volunteers who assisted in preparations for the event.

Mary Bezpalko opened the program with a poem before facility manager Kristen Peleshok and Parkview's Marguerite Friesen came forward on behalf of the Health Care Centre and Parkview Extended Care to thank all those who attended "for the privilege of caring for your family members."

Each year, a group of employees from the facility is honored for their service, and this year, flowers were presented to Linda Dorey and Brad Young, representatives of the acute care nursing staff, and to Marguerite Friesen, Teri Lynn Connell, Athena Olinan and Judith Akaya, representing the Parkview staff.

Vocalists Lawrence Pidluzny, Doreen Younghans and Lorraine Penner entertained with several songs during the afternoon, the first just before guest speaker Linda Moses of Vermilion, facilitator for a grief support group, gave her presentation on the stages of grief and how best to deal with them, as well as providing packages of helpful information for each family.

Fern Sinclair read an uplifting poem before McNamara introduced Elk Point's newly arrived physician, Dr. Adenike Ashalou, to the group.

Family members were then invited to come forward and light candles in memory of their loved ones.

Candles were lit for Catherine Abraham, Thomas Abraham, Lawrence Aulotte, James Boyd, Marjorie Brooker, Emily Brown, Patricia Crawford, Gordon Daniels, Alvin Delver, Samuel Deschamps, Alma Fiddler, Roland Gascon, Norman Lacombe, Harold Langdone, Alice McGillivray, Minnie Moneta, John Myshaniuk, Paul Myshaniuk, Lyle Niblock, Ed Pankiw, Irene Paradis, Leo Rainboth, Walter Saranchuk, Bernard Sherwin, Ray Wooldridge, Alex Yaceyko, William Zarowny and Minnie Zazulak.

McNamara concluded the program by acknowledging all those who have donated to the Palliative Care Society through the Tree of Hope and also thanked the Elk Point Firefighters who donated the proceeds from their spaghetti eating contest to the society to assist in their efforts to provide comfort and care to those nearing the end of life.

ACUTE CARE NURSES Linda Dorey and Brad Young accepted a floral arrangement on behalf of their department from Erna Holliday of the Palliative Care Society.

PARKVIEW EXTENDED CARE staff members Marguerite Friesen, Athena Olinan, Teri Lynn Connell and Judith Akaya were presented with flowers by Mary Bezpalko of the Palliative Care Society.

Fifty years of Masonic membership honored by Grand Lodge

Elk Point has been the home to St. George's Masonic Lodge for 66 years, receiving its charter from the Grand Lodge of Alberta on June 11, 1953.

For 50 of those years, one of its members has been Hedley Dennill of Dewberry, who was honored with the presentation of a 50-year jewel by Grand Master Kenn Culbertson of the Grand Lodge of Alberta and Brian Ogloff last Tuesday evening.

Dennill was born in Dewberry and has lived there all his life. He started in business with his father in 1949 and took over its leadership when his father passed away in 1962, relinquishing that post to son Morley in 1996, but says he still goes in every day. "I was in business for 67 years, and I'm very proud of my achievements."

Things did not always go smoothly through those years, and Dennill said that back in 1969, his dentist, Dr. David Didow, and his physician, Dr. F. G. Miller, "got me started in this lodge," which at that time was led by Orolin Hunt.

"I was worrying about the state of the world, I was worrying about my business. They thought it would help, and it did. I think of the good people who got me into this, and changed my life."

Also on hand for the presentation were Dennill's wife of 67 years, and other family members, as well as a number of lodge dignitaries.

FIFTY YEAR JEWEL
was presented by Ogloff.

Public Works Week marked with open house

VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

The Town of Elk Point Public Works department opened its doors to the community last Tuesday, as they marked Public Works Week with an open house, giving residents to meet the Public Works staff and have a close-up look at the lineup of equipment they operate to keep the community in top shape.

The Town has added to the lineup in recent years, from a hydrovac unit purchased from the Town of St. Paul and an excavator purchased from the County of St. Paul to a tractor and boom mower that can safely cut ditch banks and other challenging areas without putting the operator at risk. Also used for general mowing, PW superintendent Jay Duffee says the tractor and mower replace three workers on the smaller mowers, freeing up two workers to perform other duties. "We have over 200 acres of rough mowing," he noted. The excavator is another worthwhile purchase, replacing $210 per hour cost to hire similar equipment with one man's wages, Duffee said.

"We can handle most stuff ourselves, and with the equipment on hand when we need it, we can get things done right away."

READY TO MOW - Machinery large - such as the tractor and boom mower above, - and small, such as the lineup below, are ready to cope with the Town of Elk Point's 200 acres or more of grassy areas.

Partnerships with the neighboring municipalities have proved valuable to both parties, Duffee said, the purchase of the hydrovac still allowing the St. Paul crew to use it if needed, while partnerships with the county also includes joint operation of the transfer station.

In addition to the tour of the public works shop, which was enlarged a few years ago to house the growing lineup of equipment, visitors enjoyed a burger barbecue during their visit.

PUBLIC WORKS SUPERINTENDENT Jay Duffee shows local resident Orest Fedorus the excavator the Town purchased from the County of St. Paul, saving time and money over hiring equipment when needed.

Multi-Urban Intermunicipal Development Plans

Community Open Houses

In the winter of 2017, the County of St. Paul No. 19, in partnership with the towns of St. Paul and Elk Point and the Summer Village of Horseshoe Bay began preparing and updating Intermunicipal Development Plans (IDP) between the County and each of the partnering municipalities. In addition to the development of the IDPs, a new Municipal Development Plan is being prepared and the Land Use Bylaw is being updated for the Summer Village of Horseshoe Bay.

In April 2018, landowner interviews and community open houses were held to gather feedback from landowners, residents and stakeholders on the vision, issues and ideas for the IDP study area. The feedback shared and information gathered from a technical review, helped the project team to develop a land use concept and related policies for the study area.

The draft background report and land use concept was shared on the project website on August 7, 2018. The draft IDP is available for review the project website:
<http://multi-urbanidps.ca/>

This June, the partnering municipalities and ISL Engineering and Land Services are hosting community open houses to share the draft IDP and gather input from landowners, residents and stakeholders.

Lines? What lines?

VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

The 2019 version of F. G. Miller High School's Outside the Lines showcased an array of talent both on stage and off, with families and friends of students coming in to view a huge display of both visual and industrial arts before the musical portion of the evening got underway.

The visual art display, backed up by an almost-completed mural, ranged from pencil and pen and ink to acrylic paintings, from cartoons to landscapes, pointillism to copies of Egyptian art of long ago, all showing both talent and promise. One side of the display was devoted to the industrial arts, with an array of well constructed woodwork, from finely detailed memory boxes to ready-for-summer deck chairs, as well as a lineup of glass etching created by Grade 7 students and a table of well-executed photography projects, from albums to calendars. Several woodworking projects had been donated by the students for door prize draws, while a large decorated chest was up for silent auction, with proceeds going to purchase more material for future projects by the Industrial Arts students.

Three young guitarists, Jacob Petruk, Brendan Scott and Kailey Penner were first to take the stage for the musical segment, along with instructor Shane Larmand, who immediately had the audience clapping along with 'The Lion Sleeps Tonight,' humming along to 'Take Me Home, Country Roads' and rocking to 'Bad Moon Rising.'

Soloist Alex Duffee showcased not only his vocal skills but his talent on mandolin and guitar in two crowd-pleasing numbers, before Casey and Cobe Warawa and Colby and Dakota Havener took the stage along with Larmand for their segment, coaxing FGM's Denise Bjorkman to join them for two numbers, one that had the whole crowd shouting 'Come On!' in unison.

Soloist MJ Espinoza also welcomed the audience to join in his second number, 'Sweet Caroline,' which followed 'Her Crazy is Beautiful to Me.'

Last to take the stage was the No Name Band, Brandon Goertzen, Alex Duffee and Ethan Hampson, with Larmand on drums, their segment including an original song, 'Silhouettes' and wrapping up the very enjoyable show with 'Rockin' in the Free World'.

NEW TALENT - Brendan Scott, Kailey Penner and Jacob Petruk were joined on stage by instructor Shane Larmand and drummer MJ Espinoza

NO NAME but they sound good - Alex Duffee, Brandon Goertzen and Ethan Hampson were 'Rockin' in the Free World with Shane Larmand on drums.

FROM LIBRARY TO STAGE - FGM librarian Denise Bjorkman joined Shane Larmand, Casey Warawa and Dakota Havener on guitars, Cobe Warawa (behind the action) on drums and Colby Havener on keyboard to get the whole crowd shouting 'Come On!' with their music.

FINE ART of many styles and media filled rows and rows of tables.

CUTE AND RUSTIC BIRDHOUSES, glass etching and woodworking projects were all part of the Industrial Arts display.

Iron Horse Mini 2019 runs into town

TWO FOR TWO – Alain Gogue of Wainwright won his second Iron Horse Mini in a row, crossing the finish line in three hours, 38 minutes, four minutes longer than his winning 2018 run in the Individual category. Last year he was also the first runner across the line, but this year, the final lap runners of three relay teams pounded into Elk Point ahead of him. Richard Wilkie, three hours and 44 minutes, and Todd Savard, three hours and 45 minutes, placed second and third of 17 individual runners, up from nine last year.

One of her goals is to relearn the knowledge from her high school years, because "I still want to be a lawyer. Hopefully it works out; I'm very determined. She also hopes to eventually drive again, although she would have to take another round of driver training. "I want to drive so bad," she told the students, but she is willing to wait, because "I don't want to hurt anyone."

Becoming a lawyer and getting back behind the wheel as a safe driver are tied together, Wade says.

"I was in this crash because of distracted and careless driving." The driver who caused the crash "walked away with a $2,000 fine and six demerits, and I have a lifetime with a permanent disability. This was not an accident, it was preventable, it was his choice to not pay attention. I'm only one survivor of a crash like this, that never would have happened if someone had paid attention.

"Alberta has the weakest penalties for distracted driving, and that should concern all of us. I was working with MLA Jacquie Fenske to have larger penalties put in place. I was invited to the legislature for a session on distracted driving and have met our new MLA."

Wade is part of RADD (Renaye Against Distracted Driving) an organization working with the federal government to make distracted driving a criminal offense.

"We as a society must set an example. It happened to me, it could happen to you. Pay attention and make others pay attention too. The world is what we make it; let's make it safe. Everyone deserves to get home safe."

CRASH VICTIM Renaye Wade told FGM and Heinsburg students "It happened to me, it could happen to you," with a video of the remains of the vehicle she had been riding in as a background.

A little NBA, a lot of baseball

I have never watched the Raptors play basketball, or any NBA team for that matter. I was a football guy in school and didn't like basketball, must have been something to do with my stature and my lack of ability to run and bounce a ball at the same time! But now since the Leafs are done and the Jays are in the tank, maybe a guy should take the time and try watching a little bit. After all, they are from Toronto.

By the way, I'm picking St Louis to win the Stanley Cup. They have never won the Cup and have been in the league since 1968, and there's a lot of Canadian boys on the team as well. Plus the Bruins beat out the Leafs, so I wouldn't want to cheer for them! And, just in case you didn't know, the Leafs haven't won the cup since 1967!!

On to the local baseball scene, our Peewee Sox have been doing really well in league play this year and in fact I believe they are undefeated. And I'm not really surprised, because this team has a ton of talent on it. This past Thursday at home they defeated St. Paul 13 to 6. Timmy 'Freight Train' Cardinal taking the mound pitching for the first two innings, 'Bo Diddley' Fontaine and 'Kid Kade' Fontaine sharing the middle relief duties and Sam 'Spiderman' Rogal coming in as the closer, shutting them down one, two, three. At the dish, 'Spiderman' doing some heavy damage as well, cranking out an in-the-park home run. His cousin, Josef the 'Red' Theriault with two singles. Cyclone Cole Pierce, 'Top Gunner' Crawford, Aidan Peterson and 'Bo Diddley' all getting on base with a single and driving in runs. Jax Gaulton with his first hit of the year and it was a beauty double. 'Kid Kade' also pounding a double to deep left center field.

In bantam provincial action this past weekend, skipper Tyler Warawa and the Lakeland Northstars won two out of three games in Edmonton, losing the first game to St. Albert then defeating Grand Prairie and South Jasper Place. Here's Tyler's game reports: We were in South Jasper Place this weekend. The first game we played the top team in N1. Turned into a pitchers duel, with us losing 8-6. Seth Cobourne and Keegan Locke both pitched excellent in the game. Cody Archibald laid down a great bunt to get to first. However after sliding back on an attempted pick off, he broke a bone in his hand and is out for three weeks. The next game was against another tough team in Grand Prairie. Zach Lapointe pitched a fantastic game only allowing four runs over four innings. Andon Ballas came into finish the last three innings and it was lights out. Plus he hit a three-run dinger in the top of the seventh to put the Northstars ahead. Kobe Warawa made a diving stop and threw out the runner to end the game for a Northstars 9-6 win.

In the final game on Sunday, the boys played the host South Jasper Place Jays. I think the 9 a.m. start was a little early, as the boys didn't start playing till 11 a.m. Colton Lacoursiere pitched two great shutout innings to give the Northstars a chance. After the Jays took an early 4-2 lead, Brent Hoshowski came in the fifth inning to try and hold the Jays off the score sheet and did an excellent job, only allowing one run. Brent had a great weekend playing shortstop and making some huge defensive plays. Lead-off hitter Nolan Dechaine started the rally in the bottom of the seventh. The Northstars were down 5-2 and Nolan hit one off the fence for a long single to start the inning. Next up was Evan Gauthier and he crushed a two-run shot over the right field fence, it was a no doubter. Down 5-4 with two out, the Northstars found a little extra gas in the tank and scored two more runs to win the game 6-5.

Izaak Warholik played some great defense all weekend and had some timely hits. Kamden Brunet is always a threat to steal when getting on base and showed his wheels over the weekend. Overall it was a great weekend and walking away with a 2-1 record, puts us at 4-1 and at the top of our division. That means Tier 1 ball for June, but hopefully the boys can keep rolling.

And now for the K.A. Campbell quote of the week: "Coaching in the NBA is not easy. It's like a nervous breakdown with a paycheck." - Pat Williams

The Grand Champion also claimed second place in the Rate of Gain competition, at 3.17 pounds per day, surpassed only by his sister Nicole, whose steer gained 3.46 pounds per day. Judges Conway and Samantha Roscoe chose Kailey Wirsta's steer as the Reserve Champion for the K-Cow Ranch award.

Kailey's steer and both Bristow steers, along with a steer shown by Cloey Germain, advanced to the Parade of Champions from the heavy weight class, along with lighter steers shown by Luke and Zack Germain, Alysa Jean and Lexi Wirsta.

Janice Wirsta is the club's general leader, with Mona Bristow as her assistant and Kevin Wirsta is the beef project leader.

The Parade of Champions came at the end of an show that started off with K-9 project members Shaylyn and Shyanne Klatt and Darianna Boorse, putting their well-trained dogs through their paces on a course that included a ramped bridge, a slalom course, hoops, jumps, a teeter-totter and a tunnel, as well as showing off their favourite tricks, under the watchful eye of project leader Daryl Klatt.

Later in the show, Pheasant Project members Darianna and Jove Boorse and Shaylyn and Shyanne Klatt and leader Jason Boorse outlined their plans for the project, which starts this Thursday when the club received 455 three-day-old pheasant chicks to raise for 15 weeks before they are released into the wild. A model of a pheasant flight pen was on display, along with photos from previous years.

Both pheasant and K-9 projects were formerly part of the Elk Point 4-H Multi Club, which, due to decreased membership, joined forces with the Beef Club this year.

SHOWMANSHIP: Senior – 1. Kailey Wirsta, 2. Nicole Bristow; Intermediate – 1. Lexi Wirsta, 2. Shaylyn Klatt; Junior – 1. Alysa Jean, 2. Zack Germain.

Former club member Ashley Bristow was mistress of ceremonies for the show, with Cole Dodgson as ring person, Daryl Klatt and Jason Boorse as weigh masters, Lucille Smith and Ellen Seward as show clerks and Jayden Jean, Jove, Darianna and Crystal Boorse as ribbon presenters.

GENEROUS JUDGES - Samantha and Conway Roscoes' Family Ties Angus raises a donation steer each year, a third going to Samantha's former 4-H club, a third to a worthy charity and this year, a third to Elk Point 4-H.

RESERVE CHAMPION STEER was shown by Kailey Wirsta, who accepted the award sponsored by David Jean of Three Mile Angus (right) and presented by judges Samantha and Conway Roscoe.

RATE OF GAIN - Nicole Bristow received this year's Rate of Gain award from steer project leader Kevin Wirsta, her steer gaining an impressive 3.46 pounds per day since weigh day in November.

Congratulations to all Elk Point 4-H members on your achievements!
